

MSU in Dubai

Contributed by Adam Robert Clegg

One of the prettier sites that I worked on during my time at University Relations is this site we built for the school MSU is opening in Dubai. The MSU in Dubai site was a neat project to do, complete with a fading banner that first showed MSU in the USA and then Dubai.

Unfortunately, you'll note the thumbnail is not linked, and that's because once the site was given to the Dubai school, they decided they want to make their own site. I do not know the political reasons, but they ended up with this . I just want to put it out there, I have nothing to do with their new site. Oooohhh well, that's the way the cookie crumbles I guess.